In order for our office to issue an I-20, you must demonstrate that you have the funds to cover all tuition and living expenses while you are in the U.S. This chart will help you determine how much money you must show for your program. Each of the certificate programs is one quarter in length. If you will do the optional BEIC course, the internship adds a second quarter.

Student Cost

Select the program you will attend:

- FPM: $8,928*
  ($4,077 tuition + $4,851 estimated living expenses for one quarter)

- MIP: $8,928*
  ($4,077 tuition + $4,851 estimated living expenses for one quarter)

- BUSIP: $9,176*
  ($4,325 tuition + $4,851 estimated living expenses for one quarter)

If you will do the optional BEIC course, add:

- BEIC: $8,571*
  ($725 internship preparation course + $3,195 internship + $4,651 estimated living expenses for the additional quarter)

Dependent Spouse Cost

If you will bring your husband or wife as an F-2 dependent, add:

- $2,883* (estimated living expenses for spouse)

If you will do BEIC, add an additional $2,883 to cover the additional quarter.

Dependent Children Cost

If you will bring any children as F-2 dependents, add:

- $1,944* per child (estimated living expenses for each child)

If you will do BEIC, add an additional $1,944 per child to cover the additional quarter.

Total Cost

This is an estimate for the full program. Your proof of finances should demonstrate that you have at least this amount of money to study in the program.
